WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4.

FERRY FULLER.

Perry Fuller fenders here instead of going to New Orleans to the Collectorship. He went to New York this week to help Blenckley to hunt up charges against Holloman.

Some disappointed aspirants for the New Orleans Collectorship denounce Johnson savagely for permitting Fuller to lounge around Washington intriguing for other appointments.

SENATOR POWELL.

The Friends of friends are very much demoralized at Senator Powell's declination for Grant. They say Powell positively promised Johnson that he would support the Democratic nominees.

EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS.

This morning's Intelligencer publishes a letter from Robert Ould to reply that of Gen. Sullivan A. Meredith, in relation to exchanges. Ould admits that he was completely in error in refusing to treat the captured freedmen as prisoners of war, but cannot see that the government need have taken such measures for the protection of the freedmen.

MILITARY CHANGER.

Brevet Brigadier-General George W. Balloch, who has been on duty in the Freedmen's Bureau for some time, has been ordered to be mustered out of service. Brevet Major-General R. O. Tyler, Department Quartermaster-General, has been granted six months' leave of absence and permission to go abroad.

MAINE ELECTION.

A very noticeable uneasiness is manifested here by the radical "knowing ones" whenever the Maine election is mentioned. They are not at all satisfied with the complexion of affairs in that State since Pendleton and other Democratic speakers have canvassed it. Radical clerks from that State in the department here are beginning furnished transportation to insure their presence thereon the day of the election, and so important is every vote considered that their tenure of office is made contingent upon their furnishing satisfactory evidence of having voted for the radical candidates.

Special Dispatch to the Louisville Journal.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.

Daniel Haverty, of this city, who charges John McLane, of Corpus Christi, Texas, with having abducted him in January last, took him to Texas, and imprisoned him in an iron cage for five months, has appeared in the Circuit Court, and cost $50,000 damages.

John A. Spalding, a painter, fell from the scaffolding on the Scotch Presbyterian Church yesterday, and was killed.

At a meeting of the friends of the Jackson, Fort Wayne, and Cincinnati railroad, at Jackson, on Saturday evening, it was announced that $60,000 of the $80,000 required of Jackson county had been subscribed, and encouraging reports from the country south were submitted, the people of Jackson were being themselves actively to raise the remaining $20,000.

A Case of Mal-practice—Examination Continued—Burning of a Pork-packing House—New Method of Sub-aqueous Communication.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.

The investigation in the mal-practice case, in Amity, was continued before Coroner Rollins at considerable length yesterday. The coroner's jury, which had been mentioned as having been on terms of intimacy with the dead girl, was examined. Dr. Gridley, who was most prominently in connection with the case, was present at the inquest, but he was not called to give his testimony.

A few minutes before eleven o'clock last night a fire broke out in the three-story brick building, Nos. 100 and 102, Forty-third street, occupied by the Smith Bros. & Brothers as a pork packing establishment. The fire originated in the kitchen in the basement, and was connected by a tin-covered wooden rope. The smoke house and contents were completely destroyed, and the main building was partially damaged. The loss of stock is about $4,000, and on the buildings about $6,000. Insured.

A heavy eastern rain storm has prevailed.

The Herald to-day has a long communication from Tonawanda, relating to a man named H. M. Moore, who has a new method of an electrical or aqueous communication, by which he claims to have carried on telegraphic correspondence with the world.

I believe one who reflects believes that if the people of the Southern States would unite in a common cause, and good-will heartily applied to the repudiation of the waste of war, reorganize their business, get the freedmen peaceably, personal and political freedom, and our product and our revenue, inspire doubt of our political and financial stability, promote the value of our national bonds, and all the other ends of the revolution, which is the chiefest possible aim of those that the poorest nation in Christendom.

REVERDY JOHNSON.

London, Sept. 4.

The trial of the cutlers at St. Louis, and the American Guards, who were present as a guest, made his first address in England.

Sending a toast to the health of the American Minister, Mr. Johnson, after expressing thanks for the high honor conferred upon him: He came to this country to represent the cause of justice and to control the government for the last four years that the people of the South have been under his administration. It must be recognized everywhere that he is a honest and upright man, who has done his duty to his country and to his people.

Speaking of the trials of the cutlers, he said that he had been told that they were to be tried before the court martial, and that he had no objection to that.

Mr. Johnson reviewed briefly the causes of the civil war, and the few educated, lawless freedmen, as well as the public opinion and sentiment of the intelligent people, are willing to attempt to lead and make their living off of these ignorant, inexperienced, and bold freedmen, who must be no more than ne'er-do-well adventurers or vagabonds.

We are told that the cutlers have been furnished transportation to insure their presence thereon the day of the election, and so important is every vote considered that their tenure of office is made contingent upon their furnishing satisfactory evidence of having voted for the radical candidates.

The Tobacco Tax—The Navy a Peace-Feeding Marine—Statists—More Supervisors Nominated—Naval Changes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.

Commissioner Hollins, in reply to a tobacco manufacturer states that the tobacco will be taxed at 15¢ a pound, and collected as heretofore, until the stamp under the new law is furnished.

THE NAVY.

The Secretary of the Navy, in accordance with the will of Congress, has succeeded in reducing the personnel of the navy to 8,500 men, the force it counted previous to the 1st of August.

Mr. Grant writes that he will not return to Washington until the next approach of the Presidential election, as he has an unconquerable aversion to mixing up in political complications. Colfax, however, is expected on or about the 18th instant.

THE SEPTEMBER SESSION.

Schenck it is said will arrive here tomorrow to see about the feasibility of calling a September session of Congress.

ROLLINS AND HARLAND.

Rollins and Harland laugh at the New York summons, and treat the whole thing as a good joke. Rollins will probably leave to-night in his home in New Hampshire. He "might have been seen" in the streets of this city to-day, smacking a long-nine, and declaring that he intended to demand of the President the removal of Solicitor Blenckley. It is a sad comment upon the respect which ought to be inspired by the law, when an official let him never high, can thus disregard a warrant regularly issued, let the charge be never so unreasonable. It was not so in the good old times when Jackson thought it not beneath the dignity of the victorious General of New Orleans to respect the process of a municipal Judge.

CANISTEN MEETING.

A short Cabinet session was held to-day, Postmaster-General Randall, Secretary Browning, and Attorney-General Evans being absent.

WASHINGTON.

The name of the alleged express robber arrested here Thursday is Wm. K. Griffith. He has been "doing" his best on Long Branch, Saratoga. He stole a watch worth $500, a set of diamond worth $1,500, and $500 in greenbacks from J. L. Rogan at Long Branch. Office Bell took Griffith to Altona and found the watch and part of the money on the prisoner. Yesterday the prisoner told the officer he had hidden the studs in the back of a seat at the Union depot here. They were found there yesterday evening, a jail at Altona.

Dedication of the New Temple.

A GRAND RELIGIOUS EVENT.

Programme of Ceremonies.

Sermon by Rabbi Kleiberg, Oration by Rev. Dr. Wise, Address by Messrs. Kriegsbaumer, Bamberg, and Others.

Description of the Magnificent Temple.

HISTORY OF THE CONGREGATION.

Grand Hop and Festival Last Evening.

FURTHER EXERCISES TO-DAY.

In the completion of the massive Temple on Fifth street and Broadway, the cornerstone of which was laid by the members of the congregation Adas Israel on the 25th day of April, 1861, our city can boast one of the most beautiful church edifices and its construction is a living evidence of the piety and devotion of the Hebrew community here, and will refund to their unending honor and to the architectural renown of Louisville.

The grand hop and festival took place yesterday afternoon, and no slight accident or incident occurred to mar the solemnity and pleasure of the proceedings. The day was surprisingly mild and bright, the evening smiling with the promise of a glorious day.

On the instant verges of that day came, ABBEYING OF THE CONGREGATION.

The members of the congregation Adas Israel and invited guests assembled at the old place of worship on Fourth street, at two o'clock P. M. Afternoons services were read, and the organ and piano minister, and the closing prayer offered.

The procession moved on the first circuit, returning to the platform, while the choir sang: "The Marvelous work beheld us; the glorious hierarchy of heaven; and the angels in visible radiance, filling all the lands around me, word."

The choir sang:

"The Lord is great, and His glory lasts forevermore."

The minister then read in Hebrew from Psalm 63:

"Short stands man, all the earth! Worship God, ye sons of men! Know ye that God is in the Lord; it is he who has made the earth, and his hands have shaped up his pleasure.
